Customer Reviews

I was asked if I would like to participate in a colouring book review program, and as I enjoy colouring I accepted. The printing is sharp with none of the pages looking faded, nor do any appear to be taken out of children's colouring books. The pictures themselves are either of plants or animal motifs, and have a good range in difficulty from fairly simple vases of flowers to more intricate drawings that cover the entire page. This is the type book I like, as sometimes I enjoy taking a long time to do the entire page, and other times I have much less time to complete it. Sure, I sometimes walk away from it before I am finished, but it's nice to work on a picture you know you will finish in that period of time. If you have not tried an adult colouring book, I encourage you to do so. I had not for years until one was given to me, and I found I enjoyed it so much that I bought what I thought was a large set of coloured pencils - it contained 48. (I now wish I had gone for the larger 72, but in truth I have tried colouring these with my old small set of 12 - and it works fine). May not have the range of shades, but it still looks nice. And more importantly, it's fun and relaxing. Remember how it was when you were children and colouring was one of your activities? If you liked it then you will like it now - might even encourage you to draw or paint your own pictures. (It has me). This would be an excellent choice if you are looking for a gift for someone, or if you just want to try adult colouring for yourself.
