Belleruth Naparstek, LISW, BCD Psychotherapist, author and guided imagery pioneer Belleruth Naparstek is the creator of the popular Health Journeys guided imagery audio series. Her first book, Staying Well with Guided Imagery (Warner) is a widely used primer on imagery and healing. Her second book, Your Sixth Sense (Harper Collins) has been translated into 9 languages and called one of the most thoughtful and sophisticated looks at imagery and intuition. Her latest book on imagery and posttraumatic stress, Invisible Heroes: Survivors of Trauma and How They Heal (Bantam Dell), won the Spirituality & Health Top 50 Books Award and was released in paperback January of 2006. Highlighted in the 20th anniversary edition of their seminal book, Courage to Heal, Ellen Bass and Laura Davis call Invisible Heroes, the most useful book for trauma survivors to be published in the last decade. As Prevention Magazine noted, she has been quietly creating an underground revolution among mainstream health and mental health bureaucracies, by persuading major institutions such as the U.S. Veterans Administration, the U.S. Dept of Defense, Kaiser Permanente, Blue Shield of California, United Health Care, Oxford Health Plan, scores of pharma and nearly 2000 hospitals and recovery centers to distribute her guided imagery recordings, in many instances free of charge to recipients. Recently she has been developing military-friendly resources with the help of the U.S. Army and the Ft. Sill Resiliency Center, and DCoE (Defense Centers of Excellence) has declared guided imagery one of their Twelve Promising Practices. Her audio programs have been involved in over two dozen clinical trials, with nearly a dozen studies completed to date. Efficacy has been established for several psychological and medical challenges, most recently for military sexual trauma and combat stress at Duke University Medical Center/Durham Veterans Administration Hospital. Naparstek received both undergraduate and graduate degrees from the University of Chicago. She maintained her psychotherapy practice for over 30 years and for several years taught graduate students at The Mandel School of Applied Social Sciences, Case Western Reserve University. Earlier in her career, she supervised psychiatry residents at Cambridge Hospital/Harvard Medical School and was Chief of Consultation & Education at the Woodburn Center for Community Mental Health in Fairfax County, VA. She also did a brief stint as a musical comedy actress at Second City and The Tip Top Tap of the Allerton Hotel in Chicago, and says that her musical comedy skills sometimes come in handy for teaching.

Well I'm just going through perimenopause right now and it is just awful. I can't even stand myself when my hormones get cranked up. Yesterday I had a terrible day. Some of the terrible day happened at the doctor's office so I know that my blood pressure was up and I was just a royal mess. I went home and sat on a comfortable chair outside and used headphones to listen to this Mastering Menopause by Belleruth Naparstek. I've listened to her Helpful Sleep often and especially her Weight Loss guided imagery. I don't know that I agree with all her thoughts in this Mastering Menopause but even if I don't agree with it all I WISH it all were true. At any rate, it calms me right down. Sometimes it calms me down enough to put me to sleep. I recommend Belleruth Naparstek's products for what ever ails you.

Very helpful

This guided meditation uses images of a circle of supportive women (you can fill in the blanks) who have already crossed this menopause threshold, who are there to assist and guide me. I find this very comforting. Other relaxing images are very empowering and address some of the more aggravating symptoms. I've definitely felt a difference in the extent of my hot flashes, and my other problems with a delicate gut have also improved. I'm surprised and delighted.

I purchased the grieving cd at the same time and it's wonderful, but this really wasn't even relaxing.
