We try to keep the kids active with their lessons throughout the summer so they don't lose all of what they learned through the school year. This book is great because it is very well rounded from the lessons, to fitness and morals. The daily expectations is one page front and back and also has a reward that they can assign to themselves (worked out with mom & dad of course) so when they accomplish 10 days they earn the reward agreed upon. Very nice summer workbook.

I have used this series for many years with all five of my children. I love it! It keeps their minds sharp for when they return back to school, and I love how it incorporates exercise, healthy eating, and morals that they can include in all aspects of their lives. I highly recommend the series!

It's excellent book , it has good practice for them to do during the summer love how they reinforce about fitness and good eating habits. It's great!

Great book
